

Design Elevated Living. Keep It Dry Below.

Waterproof decking for multifamily and stacked deck designs.

DuxxBak™ is an engineered waterproof decking system that expands usable outdoor living space by keeping the area below completely dry.

No underdeck troughs or membranes are required. Ideal for multifamily housing, stacked decks, rooftop terraces, and mixed-use designs, DuxxBak integrates architectural appeal with technical performance.

No secondary drainage

Architectural flexibility

Sustainable + durable

Engineered for Multifamily Performance

DuxxBak's watertight interlocking design directs water toward the deck edge and away from the building envelope. The result: long-term protection for structures, enhanced resident experience, and reduced maintenance for property owners.

The Details Architects & Builders Appreciate

Why Architects Specify DuxxBak

- Creates usable space below decks without additional systems
- Reduces design complexity and installation time
